Bolivia Withdraws From Pan-American Parley

Note Presented to Secretary Kellogg States Bolivia Cannot Discuss Any Formula for a Friendly Solution Until Paraguay Gives Moral Satisfaction for the Insult Inflicted Upon Bolivia.

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP).—Bolivia withdrew today from the Pan-American conference of arbitration and conciliation following efforts of the conference to settle the Paraguayan-Bolivian dispute.

Minister Diez de Medina presented a note to Secretary Kellogg, chairman of the gathering, stating that Bolivia cannot discuss any formula for a friendly solution of its dispute until Paraguay gives moral satisfaction for the "insult" inflicted upon Bolivia.

The Bolivian minister said later that "in the face of the grave insult that Bolivia has suffered from the hands of Paraguay I have presented a note to the president of the international conference on arbitration and conciliation saying that I will withdraw from taking part in the deliberations of that assembly, since it is impossible for the republic which I represent to discuss formulae or friendly settlement between the two nations while Paraguay shall refuse to repair its wrong.

"This decision of my government will, however, be no obstacle to a later adherence on the part of Bolivia to whatever agreement the international conference may back."

The action of the Bolivian delegate came while a special committee of the conference was preparing to investigate the boundary dispute. Dr. Victor M. Maurtua, Peruvian delegate and member of the special committee, said that until the committee was ready to report the conference itself likely would not take further steps to define its position in the controversy.

Paraguay Surprised.

Official advices through the Paraguayan legation here today expressed the "surprise" of that government over the attitude Bolivia had assumed toward conciliation proposals.

The legation spokesman said there was a "manifest contradiction" between Bolivia's adhesion to the Gondra treaty and endorsement of the resolution approved at the last Pan-American Conference outlawing aggression, and also her endorsement of the Kellogg anti-war pact, and her persistent refusal to allow the boundary claims to be investigated and settled amicably.

Chile Offers To Mediate.

Buenos Aires, Dec. 11 (AP).—A dispatch from La Paz, Bolivia, to La Nacion today said that Chile had offered to mediate in the Bolivian-Paraguayan dispute. The dispatch which quoted a communication from the Bolivian minister in Santiago to the Bolivian foreign office, said that Chile had promised to remain neutral in case of war.

The executive committee of the Argentine Socialist party communicated with similar bodies in Paraguay and Bolivia pleading with them to use their influence to bring about a peaceful solution of the dispute.

Bolivia Rejects Offer.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 11 (AP).—Bolivia has rejected an offer of mediation made by the permanent arbitration committee set up by the Gondra Accord which provides for a permanent commission of inquiry to avoid and prevent armed conflict between American nations.

Fortuna Vega, president of the commission, which meeting here, in announcing the Bolivian refusal, said that country had both refused to name delegates to the commission and declined intervention by the commission.

League of Nations Urges Settlement

Message Sent to Governments of Paraguay and Bolivia Was Voted Unanimously By The Council.

Lugano, Switzerland, Dec. 11 (AP).—The council of the League of Nations today sent a cablegram to the governments of Paraguay and Bolivia urging settlement of their border dispute by conciliation.

The message was voted unanimously by the council and dispatched over the signature of Mr. Briand, French foreign minister, as presiding officer of the organization.

It expressed the hope of the council that the situation would not become worse and drew the attention of both countries to their obligations under the covenant of the League to settle all disputes by peaceful means.

The cablegram also voiced the conviction of the council that both Bolivia and Paraguay would make use of whatever means of conciliation would be best adapted to obtain peaceful settlement of the affair and removal of the causes underlying it.

Chile Displays Her Friendship For United States

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 11 (AP).—The traditional friendship between the United States and Chile which has existed since the foundation of the republic was exemplified anew today in entertainment provided for President-elect Hoover. The festivities celebrating this good-will visit included a luncheon at the presidential palace arranged by President Ibanez for Mr. Hoover. Members of the Chilean cabinet and immediate members of the Hoover party were invited to it.

While Mr. Hoover was being entertained and conferring with Chilean officials, American business men in this country today expressed the view that the visit of Mr. Hoover, while devoted entirely to the promotion of good will, would prove to be of infinite benefit to the commercial relations of the two countries.

One American said that more than $600,000,000 of American capital already was invested in Chile, and that Chileans realizing the extent to which Mr. Hoover had promoted the relations between the two countries, would welcome a further influx of American money for the development of natural resources. Regret was expressed that it was necessary for Mr. Hoover to limit his visit to two days and officials and others mapped out a crowded program for the final day of his stay.

Members of the Chilean cabinet were invited to call at the American Embassy for a reception to Mr. Hoover. More than 600 Chileans and Americans already have been received there. Before leaving late today for Los Andes to spend the night before entraining tomorrow for his trip across the Andes, Mr. Hoover was to receive an honorary membership in the School of Engineers of the University of Chile.

Unusual Honor for Hoover.

Mr. Hoover was unusually honored on his arrival when President Ibanez went to the railroad station to meet him. This was understood to be only the second instance in which a President of Chile has so acted, the previous occasion being a visit of the President of Bolivia.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were impressed by the country as they viewed it in their travels from the sea coast to the capital. It reminded them of their own state of California. The special train bringing them from Valparaiso passed through fertile irrigated valleys where orchards and wheat fields intermingled with vast cattle ranches and dairy farms. They were informed that Chile was encouraging the development of her agricultural resources, as well as the mineral wealth found in the mountain ranges which extend from the northern boundary, nearly 2,000 miles to the Straits of Magellan.

Rides in Carriage of State.

Mr. Hoover and the President of Chile rode through five miles of splendid avenues in the capital in a gold-decorated carriage of state. Lines of Chilean infantry, cavalry and police guarded the route. The carriage of state was escorted by a troop of presidential lancers, carrying pennants of alternately the United States and Chilean colors. The prancing steeds of the lancers beat time to the national anthems of both countries, as bands in the procession played. Airplanes droned overhead. People throwing flowers and smiling, crowded the sidewalks, balconies and roofs.

Mr. Hoover made a formal call at the presidential palace. Shortly after he returned to the United States embassy, President Ibanez apeared to return the call. Later the American colony gave a reception in honor of the President-elect at the Union Club.

Hoover Invited to Visit China.

Nanking, China, Dec. 11 (AP).—Chaing Kai-Shek, head of the nationalist government, has invited President-elect Hoover to visit China as a means of bettering relations between China and the United States. The invitation was extended to Hoover through the Chinese minister at Lima, Peru.

Raid Five Night Clubs.

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—Prohibition agents in a one-hour sally through the "White Light" district early today raided five night clubs and restaurants and arrested twelve persons.

Word of the raids quickly spread through the night club district and many clubs and restaurants quietly closed for the night.

London, Dec. 11 (AP).—Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, hurriedly left the House of Commons this afternoon for Dover where he will meet the Prince of Wales.

Admits Killing Another Child

Peter Kudzinowski, Following His Indictment for Murder, Confesses He Strangled to Death Jersey City Girl Last August.

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 11 (AP).—Already under indictment for the murder of a 7-year-old boy, Peter Kudzinowski confessed to Jersey City police early today that he strangled to death a 7-year-old Jersey City girl last August.

A few hours after a Hudson county grand jury had indicted him for murder in the first degree for the slaying of Joseph Storelli of New York, Kudzinowski told police he lured 5-year-old Julia Miodzinowska away from a Sunday school picnic at Lake Hopatcong, N. J., August 19 and, after attacking her, chased her to death.

He has also confessed to the slaying of Harry Quinn, 20, a fellow worker, in Scranton, Pa., in 1924.

Kudzinowski was arrested in Detroit last week charged with drunkenness. While sobering up in the jail he told police of the murder of Quinn and the Storelli boy. Acting on his directions police found the body of the Storelli boy in a meadow near Secaucus, N. J.

The confession as to the murder of the Miodzianowska girl followed hours of questioning.

In his confession, Kudzinowski said he lured the girl away from the picnic on the promise of a boat ride.

After attacking her he said he choked her to stifle her screams and then dismembered the body. Wrapping the pieces of the body in newspapers he caught a freight train to Blairstown where he threw the packages into the Delaware Water Gap.

Tells Police of Thrill.

Kudzinowski has shown little concern over his acts, telling police the "thrill" he got from killing children would more than make up for his probable death in the electric chair. His only sign of remorse has been in the statement that he confessed to the murders because he was afraid if he stayed at liberty he would kill other children.

Extra precautions have been taken to guard the jail in which Kudzinowski is held as there have been several threats at mob action. Extra police are stationed inside and outside the jail.

When a transcribed copy of his statement was given Kudzinowski to sign he seized the paper and tore it to pieces.

As police officers who had obtained the statement after persistent questioning looked on in amazement, Kudzinowski said, "You wanted a story and I gave you one."

He declined to make further comment and only glared when police asked if what he had told them was false.

Coolidge Fears Treasury Deficit

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP).—Treasury supplementary estimates of tax returns totaling nearly $55,000,000 more than originally expected to be required were signed today by President Coolidge, who is apprehensive that a treasury deficit may result if congress appropriates too liberally.

In his budget message to congress, the president observed that a surplus of $37,000,000 was in prospect for the close of the fiscal year, but he believes now that it may be wiped out and that the incoming president may face a deficit.

Suggestions have been made to Mr. Coolidge that President-elect Hoover is anxious that sufficient funds be appropriated for operation of the vast governmental machine, but the president feels that his successor may encounter greater difficulty in the event the treasury runs short of cash. Mr. Coolidge believes that economy must be rigidly practiced now to avoid a deficit and that should departmental appropriations prove too small they could be increased by means of deficiency bills later.

Dry Agents Make Two Seizures

Agents from the Kingston prohibition enforcement office on Monday visited the place of John J. Mayone at 229 Hasbrouck avenue where they seized a quantity of alleged rye whiskey, apple brandy and beer. Mayone was placed under arrest and on being arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly was held in $500 bail for a hearing on December 15. Mayone, who is the alleged owner and bartender, was charged by the agents with sale and possession.

Later Monday afternoon the agents crossed the river and stopped at the saloon of Robert S. Benson at Rhinecliff where they also purchased alleged intoxicants and placed the proprietor and bartender under arrest on a charge of sale and possession. Benson's place is located near the New York Central station. A quantity of alleged liquor, applejack and home brew and cider was seized by the agents and Benson held in $1,000 bail for appearance in New York city later on a charge of sale and possession of liquors in violation of the national prohibition law.

T.B. Hospital and New Road Before Supervisors

Speakers Express Hope That Work on New Hospital Will be Started Soon—Board Hears New Trunk Line Highway May Cost a Million Dollars.

Indications are that the [illegible] legislators will finish its work in business by Wednesday night and then recess for a few days to allow the clerk and his assistants to extend the tax rolls and later the board of supervisors will meet in adjourned session to take up matters that may come up. The committee on salaries of county officers, supervisors' pay and grand jury list have yet to report and then the committee on appropriations will meet and go over the resolutions for appropriations and make its report.

At the session of the board on Monday evening the annual report of the managers of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital was read by Dr. Raymond S. Crispell, superintendent of the hospital. An appropriation of $17,500 was requested. It showed the number of patients in hospital November 1, 1927, as 18; additional received during year, 201; discharged, 161; died, 14, remaining patients, 18. Expenses for year were $16,591.18, and $1,002.50 had been received from pay patients and placed in the fund. The cost per day for maintenance had been reduced from $2.95 to $2.75. He called attention to the deplorable condition of the present hospital and the lack of beds and hoped the work on erection of the proposed hospital on the site purchased would get an early start. Filed.

Hopes Work Will Start Soon.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler, of the board of managers, told of conditions of the present hospital and expressed the hope that now that the plans had been approved by the state health commissioners, that bids for doing the work would be advertised for so that in the spring construction would begin.

Clerk Henry R. DeWitt informed Judge Fowler that there were no plans filed with him for the supervisors and therefore the board had nothing before them on which to take action on construction.

Architect Has Plans Ready.

Architect Myron S. Teller, who was present, stated he had the approved plans in his office, to which Clerk DeWitt replied that they should be filed with him as representative of the board. Mr. Teller said he would do so on Tuesday.

Dr. Mary Gage-Day, who was given the privilege of the floor, stated that she heard it whispered that the committee on tuberculosis hospital was extravagant in its ideas of the proposed new hospital. This was not so. She said that 112 perons died in this county from tuberculosis last year and that statistics were that for every one death, from four to five had tuberculosis. There were only 22 beds in the old hospital and the national rule is to provide one bed to each one who died in the county. The plans for the new hospital call for only 50 beds. Dr. Day said she felt sure with plans made and approved that the work of construction would start in the spring.

Cost of Poor Apportioned.

The committee on accounts of the superintendent of the poor reported having examined the accounts and vouchers of Superintendent Lester L. Sanendorf and the annual report made by him and found them correct in every particular, which committee filed as part of its report. The committee further reported visiting the county poor house and farm at different times and always found the same in each and every department in the best possible condition. It was recommended that there be apportioned upon the towns and county outside the city for maintenance of the poor, $6,409.45; for county farm and hospital, $15,251.45; for repairs and improvements, $4,000; for Industrial Home and boarding homes, $7,037.19 with debit balance of 1928; with $962.81 additional, also that $4,326 be apportioned among towns and county to pay for hospital, asylum and institution care of patients. Filed. Later a resolution to adopt report and levy the amounts as recommended was offered and laid over to be referred to committee on appropriations.

The committee on insurance reported examining claims and found them correct and recommended audit of amounts in column allowed. Amount claimed $5,526.67; allowed $5,326.67. Filed. Later resolution to adopt was laid over.

A communication was read from the Farm Bureau asking for an appropriation of $2,500 for Junior Project Work. Referred to committee on appropriations.

County Sealer Reports.

Frank S. TenEyck, county sealer of weights and measures, submitted his annual report. He reported devoting 50 hours each week to his duties, had issued 35 warnings and had traveled 564 miles, using his own automobile, had examined platform and balance scales, tested weights of packages, etc. Filed.

Supervisor Feeley gave notice that at some future time he would move to suspend section 7 of rule 6 so that action on resolutions carrying levies could be acted upon at once without being laid over.

Resolutions to carry out recommendations made in committee reports to levy various amounts were laid over under the rule.

A number of resolutions were

King George's Physicians Waging Fight Against Death

Unofficially Said That Chances of His Recovery Were Slight—Powers of Resistance Have Been Ebbing For Days — Anxiety Prevails Among Members of the Royal Household.

London, Dec. 11 (AP).—King George's physicians were waging a fight against death this morning. Unofficially it was said that chances of his recovery were slight.

Most persons were wondering whether the Prince of Wales, who was expected to reach London tonight or tomorrow, would win his race with time and death and see his father alive.

The official bulletin, which was grave and still non-committal, conveyed little to the general public, and certainly gave no ground for belief that there was any change for the better in the king's condition.

It was evident that the persistent fever which has wracked King George for more than three weeks and has been sapping strength day by day still held a firm grip upon him.

Power of Resistence Ebbing.

That the king's powers of resistance have been ebbing for days under the strain of a lung infection which spread to his general system, has been evident from the physicians' recent reports.

There was some comfort for his anxious subjects, who have been hoping almost against hope, however, in the statement in today's bulletin that there had been no further diminution of strength after a night in which the king had several hours sleep. Whether this was natural sleep was not stated in the bulletin.

The bulletin, signed by Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, said:

"His Majesty, the King, has had several hours sleep. The temperature remains high but there is no further impairment of the strength."

That public concern over the king's condition was increasing was shown by the growing size of the crowds which gathered around Buckingham Palace. The throng was large despite the prevalence of biting winds which sweep across the exposed plaza these winter days. Anxiety was written on the faces of the majority of those who gathered.

Anxiety in Royal Household.

It was stated authoritatively today that although the doctors were able to say that there was no further impairment of King George's strength, today's bulletin was not regarded in Buckingham Palace circles as satisfactory. The anxiety which prevailed among members of the royal household throughout yesterday remained unallayed.

No Change Since This Morning.

London, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Press Association was reliably informed at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon that there has been no change in King George's condition since this morning.

Health Board Adopts Fee for Milk Testing

Decide to Fix Rate for Laboratory Tests at $1 for Making Milk Examinations Required Under State Code—Hold Executive Sessions on Budget.

The board of health Tuesday evening adopted the report of the labor story committee fixing the fee to be charged for milk examinations which are required under the new state code. The rate as fixed calls for $1 per test or examination. The committee, through Mayor Dempsey, reported that it had taken up the matter of fees and ascertained that the fees varied in different sections of the state. In some cities a charge of fifty cents per test was made while in other cities the charge was as high as $2.

As the board of health has no desire to make any financial profit on these milk tests required by the state milk code the board believed that the adoption of the $1 fee would prove reasonable and fair.

Bills and claims were audited and the board then went into executive session to make up the budget for 1929.

More Births Than Deaths

The reports of the officers showed that the birth record still continued to exceed the death record in Kingston with 69 births and 52 deaths reported in Kingston during November.

Celtic Remains Fast on Rocks

Cobh, Ireland, Dec. 11 (AP).—The White Star liner Celtic, which went aground at the entrance of Cork Harbor yesterday, was still fast on the rocks this afternoon, but moderating weather left calm seas, thus lessening the danger of her breaking up.

White Star engineers boarded the vessel today for an investigation upon which will depend attempts to salvage her. It was believed that the structural work amidships had been strained.

About 500 sacks of mail were landed yesterday.

During excitement following the first alarm after the Celtic crash, a woman passenger in the third class section was robbed of $250 and left penniless with two children on her hands. Other passengers raised a fund to help her.

Hand pumps were being used to keep down the water, which poured through a huge hole in the liner's bottom and a big rent in her side. Part of the rent deep in her hull was being patched with mattresses in an effort to stem the rush of the water.

As soon as the tide is considered high enough all the resources of salvagers will be used in an effort to get the Celtic off the rocks.

Vote Friday on Kellogg Treaty

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP).—A tentative agreement to vote on Friday on the Kellogg anti-war treaty was reached today by the senate foreign relations committee after it had questioned the secretary of state a second time.

Chairman Borah of the committee predicted favorable action when the vote is taken.

T. B. HOSPITAL NURSE WAS PASSENGER ON CELTIC.

Dr. Raymond S. Crispell reports that Miss Teresa Crombieholme, a nurse at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, was a passenger on the Celtic, which grounded Monday off Ireland. The steamer landed at Boston after leaving New York and the hospital heard from Miss Crombieholme from there when she acknowledged a steamer basket sent to the boat by the staff and patients at the hospital.

Three Grass Fires.

Three grass fires kept the fire department busy answering still alarms on Monday afternoon and evening. There was a grass fire on Garden street; one on the Murray farm off the Boulevard, and another off Kiersted Lane, between Roosevelt avenue and Harwich street.

Prince of Wales On His Last Lap

Dash Across Europe From Africa To Bedside of King George Expected To Be Completed at 10:30 o'clock Tonight.

London, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Prince of Wales was making a record-breaking dash across Europe today on the last lap of his swift journey from equatorial Africa to the bedside of King George in London, where his majesty's physicians were waging a fight against death.

The heir apparent to the throne was expected in London at 10:30 o'clock tonight, fully twelve hours in advance of the best time previously estimated.

Racing steadily toward Boulogne with all the transportation facilities of three countries, Italy, Switzerland and France, placed at his disposal, the prince this afternoon was speeding across France.

He left Brindisi, Italy, at 12:30 p. m. yesterday after taking just seven minutes to transfer from the British Cruiser Enterprise to a special train placed at his disposal by Crown Prince Humbert of Italy.

At Lugano, Switzerland, the prince lost four minutes when the train was halted for repairs on a hot box, but as the engineer pulled out of the Lugano station he was determined to make up the lost time.

The special train passed through Belfort across the border in France, at 10:43 o'clock this morning, stopping 12 minutes before speeding on to Boulogne where the British destroyer Toron will meet him to make the dash across the channel to England.

Proclamation for Christmas Seals

A new attack on tuberculosis by finding all cases earlier and putting them under treatment more promptly was urged by Governor Smith in his annual Christmas Seal proclamation, the full text of which is as follows:

"Christmas Seals are again on sale throughout the state and nation to assist in carrying on the winter fight against tuberculosis. Continued progress, according to health authorities, depends largely on the prevention of tuberculosis in childhood, and on the earlier discovery of persons who have tuberculosis and do not yet know it.

"There are facilities available in practically every community of the state which if utilized would lead to the early finding of tuberculosis patients and to their prompt recovery. Such facilities include annual health examinations, public health nurses, and tuberculosis hospitals.

"Thousands of our citizens serve voluntarily on county and city tuberculosis committees. Such organizations render valuable aid to governors, legislators, health officers, the medical profession, and the public generally in unselfish efforts to provide adequate means for the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis.

"Campaigns of health education carried on by these committees from seal sale proceeds develop a wider public knowledge and concern about the disease. They demonstrate the usefulness of newer activities in public health and assist in securing their adoption and support by the agencies of government.

"Therefore, I, Alfred E. Smith, governor of the state of New York, do hereby proclaim the month of December as the period for the twenty-first annual Christmas Seal Sale, and urge all to support liberally this successful effort to prevent and alleviate the poverty, suffering and tragedy unnecessarily caused by tuberculosis.

"Given under my hand and the Privy Seal of the State at the Capitol in the City of Albany this fourth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

"ALFRED E. SMITH."

Ensemble Outfit Is in High Favor

The wardrobe for college girls this season has been designed with the idea that the wearers will go in heavily for athletics, for in all of the collections sports dress is most attractively featured. It appears both in simple tailored frocks and suits and coats, says a fashion writer in the New York Times, as well as in the usual accessories. The new tweeds in checks, mixtures, and small figured patterns are much in use, the material being sturdier than the soft tubes and other weaves of the cashmere family that have been so fashionable for several years.

Simple as the models are, there is variety in the treatment. The seaming is done in novel ways and diagonal lines are introduced by the handling of the material, giving the impression of intricacy. This novel handling of fabrics is shown in the new one-piece frocks that are to be worn under long coats and in the tailored suits. In these the effect is introduced by means of the stitching and the arrangements of panels and plaits.

The sports suits are all really three-piece ensembles, however severe the tailoring. A striking example of this type comes from London, made of brown and tan homespun, in a rather "loud" check—in this season of quiet taste. The jacket is in norfolk style with the conventional plaits, and with diagonal lines of stitching. Its belt is at the fashionable low waistline. The coat collar, which is a narrow one, and the revers, cuffs and belt are made of brown suede.

The skirt is laid in box plaits across the front, is stitched diagonally across the top and half way to the hem, keeping it snugly fitted about the hips but swinging freely at the bottom. With this is worn a sweater of tan wool shaped at the neck and wrists with a band of brown.

A suit of tweed in a brown and beige mixture is made with a very straight fullness or flare, opening at one side of the front. The coat is finger-tip length and has large cuffs and square patch pockets. It opens straight down the front, and a wide band of caracul which shades from light beige to brown trims each edge. The sweater-blouse, of knitted wool, is in a block pattern of rose and cream.

Coat Is Three-Quarters Length.

Another model in which the coat is three-quarters length is made of tweed with a zigzag pattern woven in red and pale beige. A wide collar tapering to the waistline and patch pockets are made of the cloth. The blouse of this attractive little outfit is of slender zephyr in the shades of the cloth, knitted in fancy stripes.

Ensembles of this type are in such great demand that the models are many and varied, both as to the style and the material. English and Scotch and the Rodier patterns of tweed are widely used and jersey comes second. A suit of dark blue tweed has a short, double-breasted jacket cut very deep in front, showing a sweater blouse of lighter blue striped with the dark. With it is worn a scarf arranged like an informal ascot tie, printed with a geometric design in the two blues and red. The skirt of this suit is narrow and straight, and is finished with a cluster of plaits in the middle front.

A smart ensemble worn at a country polo match had an overblouse of cream-colored jersey, with bold geometrics of orange, rust-red and black. The bottom was finished with a wide band of red fitted closely about the hips, and the short jacket and skirt were made of black jersey cardigan finished along the edges with a narrow band of red.

Sharp contrasts of color are introduced in some of the latest frocks and suits in large geometric patterns, which are shown especially in jersey and plain woolens. Beige is the fashion color for most of these models, on which the pattern is outlined boldly in black and orange, red or the warm browns. Gray is seen in some of the French ensembles, with strong treatment in black and bright colors, and some charming weaves in green and gray and green and tan are shown. Among the accessories to accompany these suits there are hats made of the same goods, stitched or trimmed with appliques in which the colors of the dress are repeated; then a bag of the fabric with a trimming of leather intended to match shoes done in the same manner; and stockings in the same color scheme, knitted in all the conceivable patterns, diamonds, checks, diagonals, stripes and zigzags. These are a little less conspicuous, usually, than the styles of last year. The gloves women are wearing for sports and outing costume generally, too, are heavy in appearance, and come in either the genuine leathers or one of the many fabric styles, the seams and back being stitched in black or color.

Wool Frocks in Rich Colors.

While the rough woolens appear to be synonymous with sports clothes for college, the college girl may be looked upon as having brought back the wool frock. They are to be seen aplenty in the best shops, appearing in all of the rich colors and shades, the dahlias, the scarlets, gold and russet tones of vines and trees, and the dull grays, greens and browns that form good combinations.

Velvet Afternoon Frock Is an Important Addition to Wardrobe.

Some of the prettiest and, incidentally, the simplest of these one-piece frocks were designed by Chanel of Paris, who has entered keenly into the designing of clothes for the young American college woman. A naive dress, obviously planned for a freshman, is made of wool crepe in deep crimson. It has the look of a very sophisticated design, being made, apparently, with few seams, and those all on the bias and flaring around the bottom. It fastens obliquely down the front, from collar to hem, with nickel buttons in clusters matching a nickel buckle on the belt.

The neck has a collar that is entirely new, following the suggestion of the one-sided neckline which has been accepted for the past two seasons. It is made of pink pique, cut to fit as a long revers at one side and one shorter at the opposite side.

A two-piece frock copied from a Paris model is made of maroon jersey, with a blouse that is tucked in clusters across the front and buttoned down the back with small, flat, black horn buttons. The skirt is plaited all around in clusters. A one-piece model of fancy wool woven with a small, red triangle pattern on white is made with tube seaming on diagonal lines that give an unusual appearance to the back of the frock.

Corduroy Is Favored.

Corduroy is a favorite material for these youthful frocks whether they chance to be classified as sports clothes or as just everyday, all-day dress. It is used for two-piece suits that require no additional wrap, made usually, with belted jacket blouses and skirts of one sort or another. The latest skirts are laid in box plaits or narrow side plaits in clusters, with best success in velveteen. The one-piece dresses of wool or other material are worn with an outer wrap and fit well under one of the roomy top-coats of tweed, which have big fur collars for warmth.

Velvet is the most fashionable of all materials for the softer type of dress for the college wardrobe and is equally suitable for the girl who has just left boarding school or who will be in the social events of senior year. It comes in a great variety of colors, including all the tints of gardens, the reds and browns, russet, purple and gold. Velvet dresses both for afternoon and informal evening wear are trimmed—though not extravagantly—with fur or lace, which is introduced to relieve the bald neck line.

Printed velvets are the most popular of all for daytime dresses, whether made on the sports frock model or along softer lines. Those with small patterns suggest youthful styles, and are shown for juniors and misses, and to some extent in more mature models.

Red Beard of King Is Relic at Emory

Atlanta, Ga.—The beard of an English king—and a red one at that—has been added to the museum of Emory university here.

Once supposed to have adorned the royal chin of Edward IX, who died in 1488, the luxurious hirsute appendage was presented to the school through its glee club on its tour of Great Britain last summer by Ernest S. Howlett of Norwich, England.

The donor vouches for its authenticity. It was given to him by an intimate friend, Sir Frederick de la Pole, baronet, whose ancestor, John de la Pole, duke of suffolk, married Elizabeth, a sister of Edward and Richard III.

The beard now occupies a prominent place in a glass case among the university's collection of Egyptian mummies and relics for which its museum has long been noted.

Worker Finds Diamond Size of Hen's Egg

Kimberley, South Africa.—A diamond the size of a hen's egg and weighing 252 carats was recently picked up by a native employee at Bad Hope Diggings in Darkly West. It is the largest diamond ever found in alluvial diggings and was sold for $22,000. The merchant who bought it said that he would have paid $126,000 if the stone had been pure white.

HUDSON RIVER LINE IN RUMORED MERGER

The Hudson River Corporation may be absorbed by the newly organized Great Lakes and Atlantic Transportation Corporation, a $10,000,000 concern, which will acquire several large barge canal operators and which plans to carry uncrated automobiles from Great Lake ports to New York on a large scale.

The river corporation showed a deficit of $52,946 for its fiscal year, which is a marked improvement over 1927. The deficit is largely due to the reconditioning of the boats after receivership of the predecessor company, the Hudson Navigation Company, which lasted from 1921 to 1926. For the first ten months of the current year operating revenue of the company were $1,823,555 and net income $204,664.

A CHRISTMAS BOOK FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

A Christmas book that grownups will enjoy reading aloud as much as the youngsters enjoy hearing,—in short a book for the entire family, is "When Granny Was a Little Girl," by Mrs. A. E. F. Searing of this city. It is a real picture of a charming family who lived on the banks of the Hudson river fifty years ago. Mrs. Searing wrote the book for her own grandchildren because she wanted to give them a share in the happy days she remembered from the time when she herself was a little girl.

There were canal boats and scows to watch, and sloops and schooners tacking and criss-crossing the channel. There were exciting days when the river was frozen and sleighs took the place of boats. There were light-hearted frolics in the summer fields and joyous "Rip Van Winkle" picnics. There was an entralling trip to New York on the night boat, and best of all, a real old-fashioned Christmas, a Christmas that a modern family will relish as much as those who took part in it fifty years ago on the banks of the Hudson.

Look Longingly At Seized Liquor

A large motor truck bearing a Detroit license was sent to Kingston from New York city Monday and loaded with a full cargo of alleged liquor at the local storage warehouse of the prohibition enforcement department. Included in the cargo were various kinds of hard liquors and other lighter refreshments which fell into the hands of the agents stationed at the Kingston office. The loading of the truck at the noon hour attracted the usual crowd, which looked with longing eyes on the various bottles, jugs, barrels and cans of alleged liquor. The stuff is sent to the army post at Brooklyn, where it is disposed of.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 11, 1928

IS A REAL SHAKE-UP DUE?

During the past year the Federal government undertook 55,729 criminal prosecutions under the Volstead act and initiated only 49,334 cases in all other than prohibition connections. This shows by official figures that the effort to enforce the Volstead act involves the Federal government in more litigation than does the effort to enforce all the other laws that have been placed on the statute books in the course of 140 years. This initiation in a single year of 55,729 criminal prosecutions from Washington under the Volstead act is reported by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, who wrote the part of the annual report of the Department of Justice which deals with prohibition. After the recent election it was confidently announced that this country had "accepted" prohibition, but Mrs. Willebrandt's figures indicate that the degree of acceptance leaves something to be desired.

They also suggest that if Mrs. Willebrandt is to keep her promises to the Methodist Church, and if Mr. Hoover is not to forget the assurances required by the anti-Saloon League, there may be a shaking-up throughout this country that will make last year's schedule of 55,729 criminal prosecutions look like thirty cents in comparison. The militant drys have a right to require such a shake-up. They have a right to demand that the prosecutors go after the rich and powerful as well as the poor and obscure, that all the big fish be caught in the net instead of dragging it intermittently on the trail of the little ones only—in a word, that all prosperous citizens, so many of whom vote dry and drink wet, be duly rounded up.

There is suspicion abroad, however, that even the militant drys hesitate to take the risk to their cause of going so far. It is possible, therefore, that the prodding Mrs. Willebrandt and Mr. Hoover are booked to receive may take the form of mere occasional and gentle reminders.

ADVANCE OF THE "TALKIES"

The first experiments in "speaking movies" were objected to on the ground that the synchronization was imperfect and the tone quality unsatisfactory, but there must have been great improvement, for it is now reported that in many communities all over the country the "talkies" are more welcome than the silent "pictures." In New York the public is paying $2.00 to see (and hear) talking pictures of melodramas that are "doing a tremendous business, which a number of the straight movie houses are not." There are similar accounts from other and far distant cities.

In consequence there is said to be something like panic among the screen actors of Hollywood, where even stars are not now as sure of continuing splendor as formerly. Beautiful blondes do not necessarily have pleasing voices or know how to use them, and some of the successful film players are now said to be "frantically studying under elocution teachers." According to report from the "picture" capital, one of the most prominent film companies will release about half of its present players when their contracts expire, and "meantime they will not be allowed to work unless they develop talent for delivering their lines." Apparently here is another beginning of the re-telling of the old story of change and shifting in employment following the perfection of new and far-reaching inventions.

MEXICAN LABOR.

Secretary of Labor Davis recommends a revision of the immigration law as it affects this hemisphere, which is not under the quota system. He wants to limit Mexican immigration particularly. He would allow only 7,000 Mexicans to enter per year, instead of the 80,000 now entering through official channels. For Canada and other neighboring countries there would be little or no change.

Something evidently must be done about this matter. Mexicans are pouring into the United States and crowding out American labor in many sections. Besides the Mexican immigrants listed, it is known that there are great numbers swarming across the border at other places than the established ports of entry.

Mexicans do not assimilate very well, though they are good workmen. If the movement continues, it will make a new labor and race problem in this country. It also threatens the depopulation of Mexico. Both countries would probably be better off if those Mexican laborers remained at home. They should bear an important part in the development of their native land.

MECHANICS

Here is something that business and professional men may not like. Never mind. It's worth thinking over. Dr. Edward E. Free, a New York scientist, tells the American Society of Mechanical Engineers that "mechanics are the nation's most intelligent class of citizens," with engineers and technical men coming second and business men third. Actors, physicians, ministers and professors, says Dr. Free, rank lowest in the intelligence scale among nonmorons.

Here is another case where definition is important. "Intelligence," he says, "is the ability to reach a reasonably correct conclusion from a set of discoverable facts." Mechanics do that, he maintains, more satisfactorily than any of the other groups mentioned.

Maybe there's something in it, much as members of the other classes dislike to admit it. Watch the electrician when your house lights go out, or the automobile mechanic when your car won't run.

CURING SICK MINDS.

You will remember how distressing it was just a few years ago if some member or relative of the family was committed to the hospital for the insane, the asylum as it was called.

Occasionally there would be cases showing some improvement and they would return home, some of them mentally clear, others having to return to the hospital at some later date.

Now although the number of mentally unbalanced individuals is increasing, it is gratifying to know that many thousands throughout the United States and Canada are at their daily work, and living a normal life at home, who just a few years ago would have been condemned to a life in an hospital for the insane.

What happened?

An observant hospital superintendent noticed that a girl who had been a patient in the mental hospital for two years, became normal mentally within two months after some decayed teeth were removed. Following this idea further, he was able to get rid of nearly half the patients admitted to the hospital by the simple method of removing infected teeth and tonsils, and draining sinuses, gall bladder, and correcting constipation.

And now Dr. J. L. DeCourcy reports that he operated on fourteen mentally unbalanced patients who had the severe type of goitre, the poisonous type.

The mental symptoms were extremely pronounced in the majority of cases and yet all but two patients were able to resume their former occupations.

They have remained clear mentally to date.

The period during which recovery took place was from several months to a year.

So once more we must thank our observant physicians who have the care of these mentally unbalanced folks.

How different this is to the time so recent, when all that was done for the patient was to remove him from his home and see that he didn't harm himself or anybody else.

We think of mental cases now as simply sick minds, many of which can be cured by the same methods that are used to cure sick bodies.

Fortunately Mr. Benson was alone. He sustained some bruises and was well shaken up. Mrs. Eberele of Springtown was driving by in her car with friends on her way home. They noticed the car skidded and turned over and Mr. Benson working his way through the broken window at the wheel. Mrs. Eberele went to his aid and took Mr. Benson home. Awhile later the car was hauled out by a team of horses. On investigation it was noticed that some oil and grease had been spilled on the road at the spot where the car skidded. It was said by several persons who witnessed the accident that Mr. Benson was going at a slow speed.

Heart and Love

The heart has nothing to do with love. The ancients incorrectly credited that organ with being the seat of all the emotions, and we, as in the expression "an affair of the heart," have followed them. Love is the result of the excitation of a gland. Sounds unromantic, doesn't it?

The board also decided to pay Miss B. Eleanor Easton, in charge of the city laboratory, a fixed salary of $5,000 a year, commencing the first of the year. Missionary Meeting.

The Missionary Society of Congregational Church will meet Wednesday evening at the parsonage to elect officers. It will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Need Permits for Christmas Lights

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy today called attention to the fact that business places decorating for the holidays must file an application for an inspection of the work. Speaking on the subject the fire chief said:

An ordinance of the fire department for the city of Kingston provides that all temporary electric wiring used for decorative purposes, installed in or outside of any building used for public congregation, such as stores, banks, halls, etc., must be inspected to eliminate life and fire hazards. Applications for such inspection can be secured at the Underwriters' Association office, located at 295 Wall street.

Residential occupancies need not file for such inspection, but it is urged that all property owners and tenants will safeguard their interests by using approved Christmas lighting outfits and festoon wiring installed to meet the requirements of the National Electric Code. All circuits supplying such decorative lighting should not be fused greater than 15 amperes and all wires passing through or under window sills should be protected from mechanical injury, which would likely cause a short circuit if such precaution was not heeded.

It is not the intent to mar the Christmas spirit in any respect in having certain reqirements to govern this class of lighting, but it is hoped that everyone appreciates the numerous hazards that might be involved if such steps were not taken to avoid any serious accidents which might occur.

LATEST DEVICE TO MAKE MOVIES TALK

Engineers Give Public Test of Photophone.

New York.—The "photophone," the very latest gadget employed to make the movies talk, was tested here. Engineers of the General Electric company and the Radio Corporation of America have been working on it for years.

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur's Navy Day speech was selected as the first to test the new process publicly.

"Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur speaks upon the naval policy of the United States on Navy day," read the first subtitle of the resulting talkie.

In a flash there he was on the screen, standing at a speaker's table.

"Ladies and gentlemen," Secretary Wilbur spoke clearly, evenly, "this has been a year of great advances in naval construction and naval policy. During this year we have added to our navy two great aircraft carriers, the Saratoga—"

At this point Secretary Wilbur's image faded from the screen, though his voice lingered. In place of Secretary Wilbur appeared an interesting view of the aircraft carrier Saratoga at sea.

"—and the Lexington—" the secretary's voice said.

Thereupon the aircraft carrier Lexington appeared, throwing plumes of water from its prow and humming with airplanes taking off and landing on its deck. While Secretary Wilbur went ahead to give the tonnage and dimensions of the aircraft carriers the audience admired them. The speaker's imagine came again into view.

"We are also adding two new dirigibles to our navy," he was adding, ifi the talkie, "both of which will be larger than the Los Angeles—"

The Los Angeles floated into view.

"—and even larger than the Graf Zeppelin—"

The Graf Zeppelin immediately appeared off Sandy Hook, nosing its way toward Lakehurst. Secretary Wilbur's voice went on, giving the dimensions of the new U. S. N. dirigibles, while the audience watched the Zep. He went on in this manner, taking up submarines, which suddenly appeared in a froth of foam in front of the listeners, and fighting aircraft, which zoomed in formation as he talked.

Machinist Says Watch Is 803 Years Old

Gary, Ind.—What is said to be one of the oldest watches in the world is owned by Edward Fernland, a local machinist, who claims his timepiece is 803 years old.

The ancient "ticker" was manufactured in Birmingham, England, and weighs more than half a pound. Inscribed upon the brass mechanism is the word "Buckingham" and under it the numerals "1125." The machinist insists that the figures represent the year in which the watch was made.

However, the Encyclopedia Britannica places the date of the invention of the pocket watch as some time during the latter part of the Fifteenth century in Nuremburg, Germany.

Fernland said that his timepiece had been appraised at $6,000.

The stem projects from the back of the case. Ornate hand carving is prominent, and even the cogs, wheels, balance staff and supporting posts are engraved with scrolls and decorative work.

In support of his contention that the watch actually was manufactured in 1125, Fernland said there is a tradition that in 1080 a Danish king bought the first watch that was made and presented it to a Russian sovereign, who ordered it destroyed immediately when he heard it ticking.

"Evil Eye" Dreaded

Among Mohammedans the open hand is often sculptured above a mosque as a symbol of protection against the evil eye, a general belief among the Arabs and Turks.

Kidney Ailments and Bladder Weaknesses Relieved by Nu-Erb

Nearby Farmer Pays Glowing Tribute to The New Medicine After Brought Relief to Long Standing Health Troubles.

No man or woman can feel well when the stomach, kidneys, liver or bowels are not functioning properly and harsh methods of treatment bring only temporary relief.

Dr. French's Nu-Erb has been successful in putting a stop to many different ailments of this kind, because of its natural action on the vital organs of the human body. It is made from the pure liquid extracts of twelve of nature's own medicinal herbs, roots, barks and leaves, each one of which is a tonic within itself and combined it forms one of the greatest reconstructive tonics of present day proprietaries. Thousands of well known men and women have testified to the great natural merits of this advanced medicine. Take for instance the recent statement of Mr. I. L. Merrihew, prominent farmer of Tillson, N. Y., who tells of the relief he has obtained.

"For years I have suffered from kidney and bladder weaknesses from which I could get no relief until I started using Nu-Erb," said Mr. Merrihew. "I had such severe pains across my back that they interfered with my work and there were times that I could hardly straighten up. I'd have to get up so often through the night to relieve my kidneys that I rarely got a good night's sleep. In the morning I felt tired, wornout and had no energy.

"I have only been using Nu-Erb a few weeks, but I am here to say that it has done more for me in that time than any medicine I have ever used. The pains have left my back and most times I sleep the whole night through without being disturbed. My nerves are stronger too, and generally I feel better and stronger than I have for years. I gladly recommend this splendid medicine to others.

THE NU-ERB MAN.

McBride Drug Store is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb specialist now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Thrilling the Entire WORLD

IN THE entire history of radio, there has been no parallel to the amazing advance in the QUALITY of music that was wrought this year by the remarkable Sparton EQUASONNE.

A new circuit . . . revolutionary in itself . . . brought with it a NEW VOICE; one of almost unbelievable purity, smoothness and depth.

Your first impression of this magnificent voice will be one of delight rather than wonder. The sheer beauty of it is irresistibly captivating. But then, when it dawns on you that this enchanting music is, after all, an accomplishment of radio science, the magnitude of Sparton's achievement will be fully apparent.

It will not be difficult, either, for you to understand exactly WHY the new Sparton EQUASONNE circuit is revolutionizing radio. The new patented "wave band filter," for example, is a marvel of simplicity, but a marvel of accomplishment, too. It "filters out" foreign sounds before amplification, and delivers only the impulses wanted, thus reducing static and interference to an amazing degree. This filtering process permits a much higher degree of amplification (1 to 15,000), greatly extending the range and volume, while still retaining the velvet purity of tone.

The SPARTON EQUASONNE

A wide range of models and prices

Still more is added to the fullness and completeness of the music by the reception of overtones, as well as the fundamentals of music. This accomplishment . . . new to radio . . . makes the reception of resonant instruments like the organ, the cello, or even the full orchestra, as marvelously life-like as the music itself.

But perhaps the greatest of all of the Sparton EQUASONNE features is complete mastery of the lower end of the dial. Think! A very large percentage of all stations are on the "lower half." Included are some of the finest stations on the air. Right now you are getting only a few. With the new Sparton EQUASONNE literally scores of these . . . wonderful stations, too . . . will be added to your log.

We promise you a thrill you will never forget when you hear this revolutionary new instrument. Authorized dealers everywhere are eager to have you call . . . even if only to listen. Don't "put off" your call, for until you hear the Sparton EQUASONNE you are missing radio's biggest thrill.

Given Charge of Coldest Station in U. S.

Washington.—Radio weather reports of observations taken by a young woman at the coldest and most inaccessible weather station in United States territory, at Point Barrow, Alaska, will enable warnings of cold waves affecting the North Central states to be sent out this winter several days earlier than previously was possible.

The recent opening of daily communication with this station makes forecasting data on weather conditions on the Arctic ocean available for the first time. Most of the cold waves and other atmospheric disturbances affecting the Northwestern states originate in that region. Observations previously taken at this station were sent by mail to the United States, reaching the forecaster's office months after they were made. They were, of course, useless in making the weekly and daily weather forecasts. The Point Barow station is over 450 miles north of the other weather outposts.

Mrs. Morgan and her husband will live in the most primitive surroundings with only a few score people within hundreds of miles. Their only communication with the outside world, with the exception of their radio, will be a steamer once and sometimes twice a year. Sometimes even this powerful icebreaker is unable to penetrate to the post for months after her scheduled arrival. Shortage of food and other supplies has often caused serious hardship. The temperature averages 19 degrees below zero during the coldest winter months and has been known to reach 55 degrees below zero.

Selfish Suffering

Suffering is not always a blessing in disguise. Sometimes it is an undisguised evil, something in which we indulge because we like to be martyrs. Self-denial for its own sake is only a foolish refusal of plensures that we might rightfully enjoy. And often when the outlook is darkest, we have no right to suffer; the only way to meet the future is with faith and courage and the readiness to smile.

Margaret Mann

"The dauntless lady" is an especially fitting reference to Margaret Mann, sixty-three-year-old featured motion picture player. She plays "mother parts" in the "movies" and her work is well liked. Miss Mann was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. She, like many others successful in the business, started as an "extra."

SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—

IF YOUR servants think you're too hard, maybe they're right. If they think you're too easy, they surely are.

A shoemaker always looks at people's feet—a teacher at their grammar. You might be giving yourself away by the kinda things you always notice about people.

"Girls," remarked Mr. Blotto, "is like mince pie. You got a lot more respect for 'em, before you know how they're put together."

FOR THE GANDER—

A man that's really set on proposin' to a woman has gotta make it snappy. Otherwise, if she don't want him, she'll beat him to it. And if she does, she will, too.

Ask a man these days how much is one and one and he'll tell you two fingers.

Don't lie to your girl about your money matters. But don't take her into your confidence, neither.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"JOTTING IT DOWN"

THIS expression is commonly used of something which is to be written, where the implication is that it will take no time nor effort, that the writing amounts to no more than a scratch or a "jot." We all know that there is a type of person who, not very fond of work himself, has the habit of minimizing anything that he asks other people to do. Accordingly he might request some one to "just jot down" a dozen pages or more! That, however, would not be in keeping with the meaning or the origin of the phrase.

For the origin of "jotting it down," we must turn simply to the word "jot," derived from the Greek "Iota" or "I." It means a tittle, the dot over the "I," or a mark over a letter to distinguish pronunciation, and its significance extends to anything of slight value or proportions.

Literally "jot down" would mean to make a mark. And it is in the sense of making just a few marks that we today refer to writing something down as "jotting it down."

Mexico City Ends Ban on Unescorted Women

Mexico City.—A woman is no longer subject to arrest if she happens to be alone upon a Mexico City street after nightfall. The new chief of police, Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, abolished a regulation, previously prevailing, that any unescorted female abroad at night might be arrested.

He said the law was possible of grave abuse and was an unwarranted interference with personal liberty.

Dogs Trust Sight

That dogs on the trail do not depend entirely upon scent has been demonstrated in Germany, where a large wheel was fitted with several shoelike devices which made an impression in the soil much like that of the shod foot of a human. It was demonstrated beyond all doubt that the animals used their eyes to a great extent and followed the artificial footprints whenever it was possible to pick them out.

New Paltz to Tap N. Y. Aqueduct

New Paltz will probably have New York city water. The recent shortage of water, with increasing demand for its use, has caused the people of New Paltz much concern. The village board has opened negotiations with the city of New York for permission to tap the aqueduct, just west of New Paltz, that leads from Ashokan reservoir. It was deemed advisable to do this since the present village water supply can be increased only through the expenditure of a large sum of money for the construction of a new dam. Even then it is doubtful if the resulting increase of supply would be enough to take care of the rapid growth of population in the village. By tapping the aqueduct the village will be assured of an adequate reserve that may be resorted to whenever the village's present reservoirs run low.

An added argument, one that should receive weighty consideration, is that in case of fire, New Paltz may be assured of a plentiful water supply. The water commission of New York city has granted the proposition extended to it by the village board of New Paltz. Further action will be taken by the board at their next meeting which will be held on December 17.

Certain formalities have to be undertaken, however, before the village of New Paltz will be allowed to use New York city water. D. V. G. Bogert, village engineer, is now at work surveying and mapping out plans for the proposed tap. This involves the direction and manner of the necessary piping, the determination of the grade and calculations as to the probable pressure of the water along the pipe route and at the faucet. This survey must then be submitted to the New York City Water Commission for their approval.

Governor Smith during the 1925 session of the State Legislature signed a bill pertaining to such a situation as now exists in New Paltz. The terms of the bill are such that any community situated in or along the drainage land of the Ashokan reservoir has a right to the use of that water in amounts proportionately equal to the amount used by the city of New York, that is a village could have a per capita consumption of water equal to the per capita use of water in New York city. As the situation now stands it is highly probable that the village board will carry out their present plans.

A SOCONYLAND SKETCH

ALASKA! Cold, snow, hunger, and men driven mad by loneliness and the lust for gold. That is the theme of the Story of the Yukon, the Soconyland Sketch for tonight.

Arthur Walden, now with the Byrd Expedition in the Antarctic, knows the frozen northland and loves it. He has put his knowledge of life on the Alaskan frontier into a dramatic book, Dog Puncher of the Yukon. Tonight's Soconyland Sketch is based on this story.

You'll hear the wind whipping across the Alaskan snows. You'll face hunger and suffering and death. And when it's all over you'll feel as though you'd been right there yourself fighting it through with the last of the American pioneers... the Alaskan "sourdoughs."

Tune in at 7:30 and hear "A Story of the Yukon." Every Tuesday evening a Soconyland Sketch goes on the air from stations WEAF, WEEI, WTIC, WJAR, WTAG, WCSH, WGY, and WGR.

A word to the Young Hostess

OF the many patterns of tableware bidding for your attention, you will quickly eliminate all but a few. And to help you in making your final selection from these, we suggest your using four time-tried questions.

First: Is it Sterling? (The use of Sterling is long-time economy.)

Second: Does it harmonize with your dining room furnishings?

Third: Is it so excellent in design that you will not tire of it?

And, will it make an attractive table setting? (It is strange but many patterns, beautiful in themselves, do not.)

Etruscan, by the Gorham Master Craftsmen, is a pattern that we find fulfills these rules particularly well. It is Sterling—and, based on a fine classic design that has lived for centuries, you will never tire of it. Beautiful in itself, it makes a particularly attractive ensemble on the table.

We will gladly show you a selection of Sterling patterns, among them Etruscan.

PICTURES

Framed or Unframed, by famous artists.

Your gifts of pictures are very important items and require a great deal of thought—not only that the picture itself may be pleasing but that it may have an appropriate frame. Many a handsome picture has been spoiled by the selection of an inappropriate frame. Our framing experts will be very happy to assist you in the selection of a proper and attractive frame and have it ready for Christmas giving. Frames ready-made or made-to-order at conservative prices.

PEWTER

Every one is interested in this NEW OLD METAL. The charm of Tudric Pewter was lost to us for many years except in rare antiques which have become very valuable. Now the art of Pewter has been revived and is in great demand for homes of culture and refinement. We have a very carefully selected assortment of the latest designs as well as many quaint old time reproductions in Pitchers, Bowls, Lamps, etc.

HAWKES CRYSTAL AND STIEGEL GLASS

The celebrated Crystal glass which is made by Hawkes is the same as that used by our ancestors and the pieces you present now and which are cherished today will be the heirlooms of tomorrow. The name HAWKES is permanently stamped on each piece. Baron Stiegel made his celebrated glassware in a small town near Philadelphia from 1763 to 1780. His original pieces when occasionally found today bring very high prices. We have a large collection of reproductions of Baron Stiegel glass made by the Hawkes Company which are very handsome and quite as satisfactory as the original pieces.

Christmas Cards and Christmas Wrappings

Our stock of Holiday Greetings is very attractive—the kind you want to send. Each one has its individual charm and a cheery warmth of design to interpret the Christmas spirit. Also bright and giddy papers, printed designs in high colorings, seals, tags, fibre tape, silver or golden sprigings, branches of holly or mistletoe.

DO NOT DELAY THESE MINOR DETAILS.

He—Why do you hang the mistletoe so long before Christmas?

STATIONERY

We have a large assortment of IMPORTED PAPERS—very desirable for those who are planning to give something a little different from the ordinary note papers which one uses constantly. These boxes of exclusive papers and envelopes are in great demand by those who want the best and the handsomest in the world. Also we have the English Playing Cards in lovely gold boxes—one deck or two decks in a box. What could one imagine as more pleasing on Christmas morning than to open a package crackling with Holiday wrappings and find therein a dainty box of Imported Writing Paper? and, perhaps, if one wants to go the limit, a Waterman or Moore Fountain Pen, too? That would be a THRILL for anyone. Let us fit out a package or two for you to send to particular friends.

Case in Point.

A well-known author was being put through a searching interrogation by a rather garrulous acquaintance.

"Don't you ever feel that eventually a day will come when you will have written yourself out?" continued his persecutor. "Have you ever thought that, when that happens, you will have to find another means of earning your living?"

The author was at a loss for a minute or two.

"But, my dear lady," he said, "such an idea is fallacious. In your own case, you have been talking for forty years and haven't talked yourself out have you?"

Last Lecture For Monday Club

The last of the series of lectures being given by the Monday Club at the chapel of the First Reformed Church this season, the lecturers being the president and associate faculty members of St. Stephen's College, took place on Monday afternoon. Dr. Bernard I. Bell, president of the college, speaking on "Present Tendencies and the Possible Future." The general topic of the entire lecture course has been "Problems of Modern Social and Political Life," and "Problems" are "Questions for Solution."

In opening his address, Dr. Bell spoke of the tendency of the prophet to foretell events as he hoped they would occur or as he would like to have them. He quite frankly stated that would not be his mode of procedure, that while many things he might say his audience would not like—he would not like himself—still he would present the future as, in the face of facts, it seems to be developing. He would try to tell truthfully in which way the "Now" is moving.

The lecturer in his talk said that thinking was coming into fashion again, and it is very certain that no one could hear Dr. Bell without finding him or herself thinking to the very limit of his or her capacity in listening to what the speaker said, and afterward in reviewing the lecture.

The forward look of art was said to be giving expression to the centralization of the intellectual idea.

The future trend of religion seemed to be toward a revival of Mysticism, a real revival of religion, minimizing the importance of the intellect and emphasizing God-consciousness in men.

Economics were found to be reaching the stage where employers are coming to recognize employes as adult human beings and where on the part of both employes and employers there is a pooling of brain power and good will.

In politics democratic government by representation geographically was being found to represent everybody and so nobody individually, and there was shown to be a searching for a representation that would truly represent if any sort of democracy is to stand.

Summing it all up, Dr. Bell said that there is today an idealistic tendency toward peace and a practical tendency toward war. Today the economic propulsion is tremendous where we are all—nationally—producing goods for profit and hunting for a market not our own in which to sell our goods.

On the other hand it is possible that there is a sufficient intellectual force in life today, which we may call Common Sense, to overcome the economic trend. Whether or no Common Sense will win, Dr. Bell said he could not foretell.

The lectures given by the men from St. Stephen's College, now affiliated with Columbia University, have proven very interesting and thought-inspiring to the members of the Monday Club and the associate members, and several of the latter were heard to remark on Monday afternoon that they wished that another such course could be had.

The regular meetings of the Monday Club will begin on January 7.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Monday afternoon and evening was unusually good. There was great volume and practically no local interference.

Reception this morning was good, but if Mr. Bagley intends to make a regular business of singing "There's Only One Girl in the World For Me", he should have a plumber look after his voice.

Grand opera idols and renowned concert artists usually presented in the Atwater Kent Sunday evening Radio Hour will stand aside Sunday night and give this time to the best ten amateur singers of the nation. These young singers—five young women and five young men—who have been selected by a series of local, state and district singing competitions of the Second National Audition from more than 50,000 contestants, will be heard in finals of the Audition, beginning at 9:15 p. m., eastern standard time.

An hour of sacred, choral music, appropriate to the Christmas season, will be presented by the famous Dayton (O.) Westminster Choir, in the General Motors Family Party on Monday evening. Under the direction of Doctor John Finley Williamson, and through the patronage of Mrs. H. E. Talbot, of Dayton, this unique vocal organization has achieved world-wide fame in musical circles. Doctor Williamson has long been the choir's conductor and he draws its membership from his extensive Choir School at Dayton. Nearly all of the sixty young men and women composing the choir are graduates in music from other colleges. They sing without instrumental accompaniment, specializing in hymnal music.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York.—Irving T. Bush, head of the Bush Terminals System, thinks that the United States is only at the beginning of a period which will go down in history as "The Golden Age;" also that America is destined to gain world leadership in the arts, literature and science; that the current increase of prosperity is a vital growing force founded on the most efficient industrial organization any nation ever has achieved.

Berlin.—From official figures a statistician has calculated that the average German is 36 years old. He weds at 27. His marriage lasts 27 years. He has three children. His annual income is $792. Each week he drinks three pints of beer and smokes two cigars and ten cigarettes. And he dies at 69.

New York.—The Rialto understands that Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are coming back next year, coming back to Broadway and the drama.

Yonkers, N. Y.—Romance is much alive in Yonkers, neighbor of the largest city in the country, as exemplified by a race of the hare and the tortoise. A young lady told three suitors that the first to arrive at her house by motorcycle would be kissed. Reginald Ryer's wheel broke down. Floyd Carder and Stanley Allen raced on neck and neck. A policeman detained them. Ryer made effective repairs. When the other two reached the house they found Ryer smiling and then Allen and Carter were fined $25 each.

New York.—An international alliance of wealth and ancestry is coming. The engagement is announced of Miss Elizabeth Brockway Crispin, daughter of a New York banker, to Oliverio Tripcovich of Trieste, a son of the late Commendatore Diedate Tripcovich and the Countess Gilda Tripcovich-Pozza. An ancestor of Miss Crispin fought with William the Conqueror. Her fiance is a member of a family that has become wealthy from the Italian Mercantile Marine.

Putzighauland, Prussia.—Farmer Schmidt has a musical cow. The only way he has found to make her stand still while Frau Schmidt milks her is to play a mouth organ.

New York.—Santa is to be good to the birds. Shrubs and trees in the city's parks and playgrounds are to be fitted with aluminum seed cups and hooks for suet. Children are to fill the cups for Christmas.

Washington.—A conscience-stricken New Yorker has sent Uncle Sam five $100 bills anonymously.

Croydon, England.—At least 60 per cent of the travelers between the Croydon air station and continental capitals are women. Some big machines leave with only women as passengers. Many go to Paris by plane to shop. Planes are especially popular with honeymoon couples.

Samarkand, Uzbek Republic.—Many women of this remote corner of Russian Central Asia who have discarded veils have been slain or mained by fanatic Mullahs. Nevertheless some 120,000 Moslem wives have uncovered. When communist propagandists first sought to spread new ideas in harems six years ago they were hunted down by dogs.

Kingstonians at Blessing of Bell

A number of Kingston people were entertained over the past week end by Michael A. Reis, a former resident of this city now living in Bogota, N. J.

The occasion for the gathering was the blessing of the church bell donated to St. Joseph's R. C. Church of Bogota by Mr. Reis, in memory of his wife.

Sunday evening, after dinner at a restaurant in Hackensack, the visitors repaired to the church for the dedication ceremonies. By designation of His Eminence, Bishop Walsh, Monsignor J. J. Cunneely of Holy Trinity Parish, Hackensack, blessed the bell and Father Boniface of St. Joseph's delivered an eloquent sermon, eulogizing the donor and explaining the significance of bells in church and secular life since the dawn of civilization. Services were closed with benediction, for which Miss Margaret Reis, daughter of Michael Reis, played the organ.

Later the folks went to the home of Mr. Reis where they were greeted by other former Kingstonites and their friends. Refreshments were served, a la buffet, all evening and those who returned to Kingston were well fortified for the trip.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Peter Reis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reis, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Winter, the Misses Gertrude and Agnes Reis and Messrs Theodore Reis and Bernard McBride, all of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. John Stoudt and John Stoudt, Jr., of Connelly; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reis of Englewood, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Felix Huber of Irvington, N. J.; Raymond Daun of West New York, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. John Mulligan of Teaneck, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Reis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Gehringer, Miss Lucy Bush and John Mack of Bogota, and Michael A. Reis's daughters, Margaret and Juliet.

Everyone had a jolly evening, some of the Kingston people returning by motor Sunday night, all saying that the handsome bell, impressive ceremonies and general good time were well worth the trip over the icy roads encountered by them from Ulster Park south.

MULCHING HELPS STRAWBERRY BED

Fruit Specialists Recommend Wheat or Rye Straw.

Mulching the strawberry bed, preferably with clean wheat straw, not only gives protection against alternate freezing and thawing in the winter, but tends to keep the plants from starting growth during unseasonable warm spring weather. It also keeps down weeds and conserves moisture, thus taking the place of cultivation, and helps to keep the fruit clean during the fruiting season, it is pointed out by Frank H. Beach and Clyde S. Holland, fruit specialists in the extension service of the Ohio State university. Serving all these purposes, mulching thoroughly justifies itself as a strawberry producing practice, in the opinion of the specialists.

Wheat or rye straw, clean, are perhaps the most satisfactory materials for mulching. Oat straw packs tightly and sometimes contains unthreshed grains. Manure, mixed with straw, while sometimes used, is likely to harbor weed seeds and insect pests, and is not always good for the soil upon which the strawberries are grown. In small home beds, rakings from the lawn will serve.

The mulch may be applied either before or after the ground is well frozen, since its purpose is to prevent freezing, thawing, and freezing again.

Pruning Currant Bushes by Removing Old Canes

The difficulty in pruning currants is greatly increased by neglect. Systematic annual pruning from planting should be followed. The finest currants are produced at the base of one-year-old shoots and on one-year-old spurs arising from two-year-old wood. Spurs on older wood produce fruit but it is much less in amount and smaller than that produced on younger wood. Canes, therefore, are usually past their best fruiting after their third crop.

The chief item in currant pruning is to remove canes which have passed their best fruiting and to replace them with new canes. A good plan is to remove a definite number of old canes each year and leave an equivalent number of new canes to replace them. When a three-year system is followed, nine canes to a plant makes it easy to keep the balance.

The three-year plan can be operated as follows: At the beginning of the second season leave six strong canes. At the beginning of the third season remove two of these canes and leave five strong new canes. At the beginning of the fourth season, remove one two-year cane, two one-year canes and leave three new canes. Thereafter the oldest canes, those in their fourth year, should be removed and three new canes left to take their place. This will give a plant, at the beginning of the growing season, composed of three canes in their second season, three in their third season and three in their fourth season.

Dwarf Fruit Trees Are Becoming Very Popular

Of recent years the dwarf fruit trees have come into great favor because of their early fruiting qualities. It is claimed the dwarf varieties fruit in at least half the time it takes the standard tree to reach the fruiting point.

Now the dwarf fruit trees are being made to serve an ornamental purpose, as well as a useful one. They can be planted as specimen subjects the same as the ornamental trees, and at blooming time are as beautiful as any flowering shrub or tree.

When grown for their fruit they are economical, as they take up less ground, and therefore more trees can be planted to the same area. Dwarf trees are also much more easily cared for; spraying and pruning are simplified.

Spraying for Scale Is Job for Winter Season

San Jose and other scale insects, including oyster-shell scale, hose scale and scurfy scale make up a group of formidable plant pests. Often their presence is unknown until the plant has succumbed to their attack. They are tiny scale-like insects of varying shapes, which settle themselves on the bark, leaves and fruit of plants to obtain their subsistence by sucking the sap of the plant.

All sucking insects must be controlled by spraying them with a poison which will kill by entering the breathing pores, or with a substance which will smother them.

Blackberry Shoots

The new shoots of blackberries come up from the roots, and in time will form a rather dense clump. The best way to handle this is to take up the thrifty plants, dividing them from the main root underground, and set them where desired. Along a wire fence would be very good, because you could then tie them up to the fence and keep them in convenient shape for handling. This work can be done either in the fall after the leaves drop or very early in the spring.

The home of a new era

Research and invention have kept in step with modern changes in the art of living.

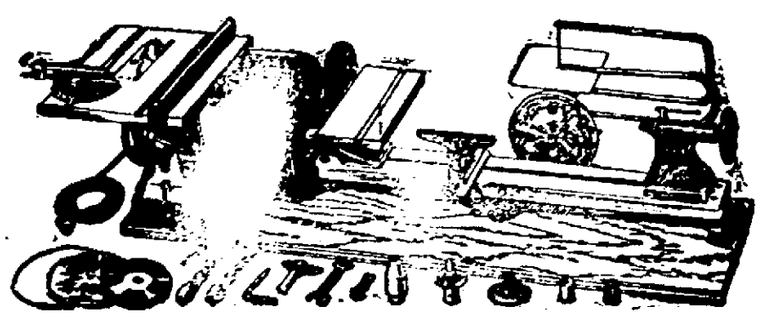
The gas fired home heating plant pictured in the background of the illustration above, maintains an even temperature in every room of the house—including the basement. Automatically controlled, it requires no attention from one end of the heating season to the other.

Hot water produced by an automatic gas storage heater is always available, in any quantity, and at any desired temperature, affording a happy solution to an important household problem.

The silent service of electricity as well offers its contributions in shouldering the labors of modern housekeeping.

And as a result, each member of the family has more time for recreation and advancement, time which can be spent constructively and profitably.

A recent development, the electrically operated home woodworking shop, offers an interesting and instructive opportunity to spend such leisure time profitably. Rugged and accurate in every detail of its construction, it is still not a toy. In its use lie many happy hours for both father and son during the cold, bleak evenings in winter.



THE DELTA HANDI-SHOP illustrates the latest development in electrical equipment in the modern home. Price so low as to meet any Christmas budget, it makes a gift that will become increasingly useful and entertaining.

Big Crowd Sees Konchina Win

Johnny Carpino's National Guard Debut a Marked Success—Nick Zinna Won on Technical K. O.—Harry Nardone Rewarded.

One of the largest gatherings of the season packed the armory Monday night and saw Frankie Konchina register a technical knockout over Kai Kruse, whom Announcer Sam Riber introduced as a boxer of high repute and a substitute for Chief Halbran in the feature attraction. The tilt went less than three full rounds and two previous bouts were ended by the same procedure.

Nick Zinna of this city so badly punished Ted Anderson of Mitchell Field, L. I., in the second round that he was unable to answer the bell in the third. Referee Charlie Goldman called it quits in the third round of the Johnny Carpino-Curtis Davis setto, as the former, a well known Kingston scrapper, had the husky negro in a very bad way.

Gene Painter of West Point decisively beat Mule Brown, of the 369th Infantry in five of their six round mixup and was given the decision. Tommy Aboba whipped Ivan Hawes in the first six rounder on the card, which was preceded by a knockout in the four-round curtain raiser between Stanley Reid of Newburgh and Harry Nardone of Highland. Nardone kissed the canvas after one minute and 25 seconds of the second round.

Main Bout Stopped.

The fans expected a real lively scrap for the feature of the evening as Frankie Konchina's opponent, Kai Kruse, who substituted for Chief Halbran, was announced as an accomplished Danish welterweight with a knockout over Nick Testo to his credit, also victories over "Red" Riley of Troy and Johnny Flynn. He also fought some of the best in the south and worked with Manuel Quintero in the Walk Miller camp.

But the patrons were disappointed. Frankie Konchina, powerful Fort Hamilton puncher, got over his first tell-tale wallop at the outset of the mixup, which reeled the Dane. He recovered from the blow, however, and displayed some boxing ability in the three rounds of the fight. In the third Referee Goldman stopped the fight when he apparently judged Kruse too weak to continue. The Dane was rather indignant as he claimed by superior boxing he had a chance to overcome Konchina.

Kruse is now a resident of Kingston and a member of the First Battalion, 156th Field Artillery, which likely will bring him before local fight patrons again in the future.

Zinna Wins Decisivey.

The semi-final between Nick Zinna, 137, a Kingston boy, and Ted Anderson, 139, of Mitchell Field was a hectic battle while it lasted. Zinna resorted to his boring tactics in the opening round and took the session from the sturdy Anderson by a shade. The second was all Zinna's. He pummeled Anderson's face until he had his right eye entirely closed and opened a deep cut on his forehead. It required two stitches to close the wound. Anderson took a count of six in this stanza. He was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

Carpino Impressed Fans

Johnny Carpino, 142, of Kingston made a good impression in his first bout as a National Guardsman by defeating the sturdy Curtis Davis of New York by a technical knockout. Davis, who had one pound on Carpino, succumbed to the Kingston boy's attack in the first and second rounds and was "out on his feet" after one minute and 45 seconds of the third round. Referee Goldman then called it off. Carpino's hitting power was apparently as good if not stronger than ever, and Johnny's performance likely will get him some star bouts on armory cards.

Gene Painter of West Point who entered the arena at 148 weathered a severe storm of "Mule" Brown's punches in the first round of their scheduled six, and took every one of the five that followed. Painter got working in the second and displayed his usual cleverness, that completely fooled the "Mule."

Tommy Aboba, 118, who beat Ivan Hawes, 117, was challenged by the little negro to another fistic duel. These boys, both New Yorkers, handed out some hefty wallops during their six round ring argument.

Harry Nardone, Highland boy who made his first appearance as a National Guard fighter Monday night, found the seasoned Stanley Reid too foxy for him and lasted but two rounds. He went down from a hard right to the button after one minute and 25 seconds of the second round.

Belief Revived

Hups Nosed Out By Mt. Vernon

Fighting a hard uphill battle from the opening whistle, the Hupmobiles of this city were nosed out 37-36 by the Baraca five at Mt. Vernon, Monday night. The Kingston team did not get started rightly until the second half, for they were trailing at the end of the first session, 29-17.

Andy Gilday stepped out as the main point gatherer of the tilt and kept the Hupmobiles in the running by caging the ball for 22 markers. Molyneaux with 8 and Erena with 6 were the only other Hups able to tally. Wonderly and Stumpf, two of the automobile team's point getters, were unable to play in the Mt. Vernon game.

Tonight the Hups will take on the Saugerties representatives at Salvation Army Hall, North Front street. The game will start at 8 o'clock. Saturday the Hups are scheduled to travel to Margaretville.

Star at Stealing

Old Bill Carrigan's Red Sox didn't finish out of the cellar in the 1928 campaign despite their early season threat which lifted them into the first division.

But Old Bill's outfit did place one of its individuals where a Boston representative never appeared before—at the top of the American league's stealing procession. That's the pinnacle the youthful Buddy Myer "stole" his way to by virtue of 29 pilfers for the season.

Self-Finding Ball Is New Fad for Golfers

The self-finding golf ball, the hope of golfers, has been discovered by Charles A. Laurino of Philipse manor, near New York. Laurino was playing the Briar Hills Country club course at Briar Cliff manor. In driving off the seventh tee his ball went into the woods. As the match was close, he decided to take a chance on finding his ball. He did. It lay about two feet away from a skunk, brought down with the tee shot.

Laurino decided to play the ball, and no matter whether he was in the rough or on the fairways thereafter, the scent led him straight to his ball

Giants Get Leach

Fred Leach, Philadelphia National's outfielder, who was made a member of the New York Giants in the first trade of the hot-stove league season, which sent Frank ("Lefty") Odoul to the lowly Philadelphia team. Leach has never hit below .300 since he has been in the majors. He joined the Phillies in 1925.

Big League Season to Open One Week Later

Under present plans, the major league baseball campaigns will start a week later in 1929 than they did this year. John Heydler, president of the National league, said it was expected to open the season in both leagues on April 16 and close on September 29.

The 1928 season opened on April 11 and closed September 29, but weather conditions, especially in the East, canceled any advantage there might have been in the early opening.

National League Annual Meeting

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—With a five-hour talkfest under their belts, National League magnates were primed for the serious and official business of their annual winter meeting today.

Their informal discussion of yesterday lasted well into the evening, but the chances are that today's sessions will be short and snappy. They'll have to be if the club owners and officials want to get to Chicago in comfort and in time for the joint meeting with the American League on Thursday. Aside from the re-election of John A. Heydler as president, a report on finances, and official announcement that the St. Louis Cardinals won the 1928 pennant, there appeared to be nothing for the magnates to do.

Out of all the welter of conversation at their initial session, the club owners' most important pronouncement concerned the draft, a vexatious question to some baseball officials. The National League had been informed by J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, that major league representatives would be welcome at the minor league conference on the draft at West Baden, Ind., January 10, but the National League decided that it would not care to be represented.

"We do not feel that we should go to any conference," said Mr. Heydler. "We will be glad to receive any communication from the conference when some proposition can be submitted to us."

There were indications at Chicago that the American League, which begins its annual sessions there today, would adopt a similar attitude. The majors feel that the next move in the draft fight must come from the minors. At the recent National Association convention in Toronto, the major-minor committees submitted many proposed amendments to major-minor agreement but the whole matter was tabled for consideration at West Baden next month.

Aside from this matter, the National League decided to suggest to the joint meeting at Chicago that the majors continue their suport of the boys' baseball tournament sponsored with success last summer by the Americanization committee of the American Legion; discussed pro and con the possible effect on baseball attendance of radio broadcasting of games; talked over the rules; announced the league schedule meeting would be held at New York February 5, a week earlier than last year; and received a report from the professional baseball players' association which aids destitute players.

Only one trade was announced. Tris Speaker, new manager of the Newark Club of the International League, announcing the purchase from the New York Giants of Vic Aldridge, right-handed pitcher, and Russell Wrightstone, the well-known jack of all trades.

The club owners will wind up their session today and leave tomorrow for Chicago.

Chandlers Play At "Y" Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. court, the Chandlers, basketball representatives of the organization, will take on the much heralded Port Chester "Y" team. The game is expected to hold plenty of interest for a large turnout of fans.

The Port Chester Club has a good record and the Chandlers will have no easy time with the Westchester county aggregation. The five have met and defeated some of the strongest teams in their section of the state and are preparing to take the Chandlers' measure.

The local team have scalped some hard-to-beat quintets themselves this season, to say nothing of their stellar accomplishmnts of last year when they went as far west as Cleveland to play. The Chandlers plan on making it one more win tonight which promises that the tilt will be of the interesting variety.

Blackburne to Lead White Sox

Chicago, Dec. 11 (AP).—"Lena" Blackburne, man of action, at last has his big chance—a chance to lead Chicago's once mighty White Sox out of baseball's wilderness.

As manager in his own right of the team which was tumbled from its pinnacle by the notorious "Black Sox Scandal" of 1919, the fiery, slender "Lena" has a chance to become the miracle man of present day baseball.

After applying his mastery of strategy as infielder and then coach to the faltering team for more than a decade, Blackburne was called on to pilot the team last July when Ray Schalk resigned. But while the die was seemingly cast for another poor season, "Lena" did wonders with the machinery left him by piloting it to 525 baseball. His reward came yesterday, when he was named as manager for 1929 and given as free a hand as any White Sox manager ever had.

Chicago fans were elated by the news and the general prediction was that "Lena" was the man to turn the trick. If he does, the turnstiles at Comiskey Park, a giant stadium holding 45,000, probably will do a land office business again for the first time since the scandal.

REBOUX SQUARE WRAP BECOMES A NEGLIGEE FITTING FOR TRAVEL.

New York—It is quite a time now, time is reckoned in the style ...se, since Reboux launched the ...are evening wrap. This achievement was made possible by the manner in which the square was bloused ...the elbow and held in position ...y by the wearer's arm. When ...t in action, the wrap was a square, ...ally bordered by brightly contrasting material. Reboux played ...h such harmonies as velvet and ...ade, chiffon and satin and so on ...thout end.

Negligees so often follow in the ...ke of evening wraps, that indeed ...e is often in doubt as to which ...ss they belong. It is not surpris...g that the square should be ...ught about one's shoulders at ...akfast time. Obviously one needs ...e use of one's hands excepting ...en on dress parade, so the position ...the wrap is assured by the simple ...ice of stitching the edges together ...the desired level, thus making a ...p for the arm.

One of the best features of such a ...egligee is that it folds into a mere ...othing and therefore endears itself ...o the traveler. Americans are slow ...n adopting the European practice of donning pajamas of a highly decorative type of course, for intimate little dinners, but all the best shops acknowledge the trend for bifurcated negligees, being especially noticeable at this season. Velvet pajamas are quite naturally of greatest interest. Sleeping pajamas are most frequently chosen in contrasting Italian silk or rayon.

Flesh tones, still desired for underthings, are being extended to include sunburn shades, a coat of tan being a valued asset and played up at all hours of the day.

The Skirt Silhouette Varies Paris Frocks

THE SUIT PROLONGS ITS POPULARITY AND ROUNDS OUT THE SEASON.

New York.—The Parisienne regards her tailleur as the backbone of her wardrobe and without it she is lost once spring and fall come. This season shows a lengthening of the life of the suit. It has even appeared in winter guise, fur-trimmed and otherwise.

A careful avoidance of the obvious in trimming is one of the most salient details. Fur is used, but almost never where one expects it to be. The flat and curly pelts have made an appeal to women for sports and for utility wear and it is for such purposes that she approves it. No French women would ever be guilty of dancing in a suit; it is for the business of life, not its pastimes.

The continued success of knitted two-piece and three-piece costumes is a matter of comment, while tweeds of course bow to no other fabrics. Beaver, Persian and grey lamb and a score of less easily defined furs supply interesting details, among which are gilets or bibs of fur. High colors, including red, and novelty soft surfaced fabrics have the call while for the suit which substitutes for the woolen dress, greys and light browns lead in light-weight materials. Loosely woven woolens in novelty color combinations are expected to have precedence for the more formal weaves. Prophets agree that we are entering into a southern season in which suits and short jackets will play a leading part, and that this in turn argues for the spring suit coming into its own.

It is naturally impossible to think in terms of the tailleur without giving a thought to the blouse with which it is to be worn. That these blouses will tuck under the skirt is something else to speculate upon.

Worth Frock of Black Georgette Scattered With Tiny White Paillettes. While Comparatively Few Afternoon Dresses Have the Uneven Hemline, It Is Expected to Become a Vogue in Summer Frocks of the Softer Type, Principally in Printed Chiffon.

Short Jacket Ensembles Are in Fashion Picture

Woolen frocks, accompanied either by cardigans or coats, or worn alone are important. The short jacket ensembles are composed of one-piece dress, the top of which is plain or fancy velvety woolen, the skirt of tweed, while the jacket matches the skirt fabric. Frequently, also, are the jumper and skirt fabric contrasting in color. Where long coat models are seen the coat fabric also matches the skirt. Daytime frocks employ novelty woolens, including tricot, lacy jersey and ondamonssa.

Old Names Retained

The vulcanite self-filler pen with its gold nib is in no way like a feather, though it still keeps the name which was appropriate when a pen was made from a penna or quill. And though the penknife is never used for sharpening pens, the old name dies hard.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—The stock market made further recovery today under the stimulus of short covering and a further easing in credit conditions. Several of the high-priced specialties snapped back 5 to 15 points, with the copper, public utility, merchandising, motor and rail shares giving the best demonstrations of group strength. Trading was only moderately heavy.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and then dropped to 7 with no appreciable calling of loans. Bankers pointed out that the course of the money market for the balance of the year will be governed, to some extent, by stock market activity, but a temporary stiffening is expected later in the week because of preparations for December 15 income tax payments.

The receipt of $2,000,000 additional gold from Canada today brought the total on the current movement to $7,000,000.

Rumors of several impending consolidations had a buoyant effect on stock prices. The announcement last night of a large department store merger is widely believed to be the forerunner of a series of important consolidations next year in the merchandising, automotive, textile and other fields.

Except for a sharp drop in Bolivian bonds yesterday, the market has not manifested much concern over the border dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay. The critical turn taken by King George's illness is reported to have resulted in some selling of American securities by British investors, but good foreign buying is reported from Amsterdam.

Montgomery-Ward, selling today "ex rights" which are quoted around 218, changed hands in moderate volume around 129, equivalent to 347 for the old stock, which closed yesterday at 334⅞. Little Big Horn Victim Unburied Half Century

Lead, S. D.—More than half a century has marched across the plains of the Little Big Horn where, June 25, 1876, Gen. George Custer and his soldiers were slain by Indians, failing, however, to reveal the skeleton of one of Custer's men.

An Indian, Frank Berthune, recently found it. The skeleton was near the fence inclosing the battlefield. An arrowhead still was imbedded in the spine. Nearby was a time-eroded rifle scabbard bearing the initials "R. D." A check of Custer's detachment roster showed a Richard Doran.

Daring Air Thieves.

Explorers in Abyssinia report that there are many birds of prey in that country, the most daring of which, and the most common, is the kite. Flocks of them will sit for hours in the trees near the camp waiting for an opportunity to steal a meal from the cook tent. In this they will often take great chances and they have been known to dart across the cook's fire and steal food from his pans on the stove. They have no hesitation in stealing the food from any wild animal they encounter which happens to be enjoying a meal.

$900 Verdict in Negligence Suit

Monday afternoon in Supreme court the negligence action brought by Miss Bertha Snyder of Mt. Marion against George D. Strongman and Melvin Sharp of Highland was tried. In this case a jury was taken early last week but the trial was adjourned until the conclusion of another action and was not taken up until Monday. Miss Snyder while driving a Nash coach in this city on July 17 last alleges a collision at Fair and Franklin street was caused by negligence on the part of Sharp, who was driving one of Strongman's Reo trucks. Strongman is engaged in the trucking business.

According to the testimony of plaintiff she was going east over Franklin street. She entered the intersection at Fair and Franklin street and noticed the truck coming down Fair street from the north. The impact took place near the center of the street and her car was driven up over the southeast curb and against an obstruction which damaged the car to such an extent that it was sold to Frank Tease, a nearby garageman, for a small sum. The car was a 1923 Nash and its value was given at $275 before the accident.

Miss Snyder was thrown out of her car and struck the pavement, inflicting injuries to her back, arm, face and about her body. The injuries were attended to by Dr. Connelly and she alleges she was laid up for some three weeks unable to work. She was engaged in assisting her parents at home.

She sues for damages to the car, loss of wages and for a $75 doctor's bill as well as for injuries and names $1,850 in the complaint.

Defendant alleges that it was not his fault and testified that it was the negligent manner in which Miss Snyder drove her car which was responsible for the accident.

The action was concluded Monday afternoon and sent to the jury with instructions to bring in a sealed verdict.

This afternoon the jury in the action of Snyder against Strongman brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $900.

Odds and Ends

Powder Puff With Top Representing Dancer

An attractive powder puff with the top or handle made after the ballet dancer design has now appeared in a new rubberized wax, tinted and painted in lifelike manner. Th puff may be of marabou in white or pastel shades. Containers for holding the powder are supplied, although many persons use an ordinary powder box, since this puff is fluffy enough to conceal any unattractive part of the cardboard. Because of its rubberized material, the puff may be dropped without fear of breaking. For the sake of novelty its head and arms are free to move in any direction.

A new box from Paris designed for holiday use is being shown now. It comes in three tiers, each one attached to the other by small bracelets. The top opens independently of the other two parts, although all three may be used at the same time. They are covered with metallic brocades in tangerine ecclesiastical red, jade and black.

For the dressing table or top of a dresser there is a new tray set made of imitation or real stone in natural and artificial colors. The trays are oval and bordered with low rims. At one side is a swivel mirror supported between two slender glass posts with ends studded with jewels. It is mounted in a frame that matches the border of the tray. The other objects consist of a large bottle with jeweled stopper, an atomizer with its neck finished with a metal band set with small jewels, a powder box, also banded about the top in the same color.

Wool Frocks Worn for Warmth and for Style

Previous seasons have been notable for the preponderance of silk frocks which when the weather necessitated, early or late, were worn beneath the fur coat. Since all fashions must bend to the laws of change, the silk frock and fur wrap combination may be slightly displaced by woolen ensembles before the more severe weather arrives. It would seem that the couturier had grown a trifle weary of wrapping milady in silk and fur. Perhaps that is why it is so extremely fashionable to appear attired in a modish costume of wool.

Sports frocks of light weight woolens are agreeably cosy to wear under the cloth sports coat.

A two-piece dress of tweed bordered and patterned in a dot theme is one example of the decreed mode for informal wear. Printed jersey is chic when in a plaid design. The background of one model is of pale green and the plaid of two darker shades and black.

Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Jane Birkins, who passed away one year ago today, December 11, 1927.

Dearest mother thou hast left us.
And our loss we deeply feel
But it is God who has bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee.

When in heaven in joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed.

HE MADE A MILLION
Buying Bargains

Russel Sage once clerked in a Grocery Store. Later on he owned the whole works. When asked for the keynote of his success he replied: "BUY YOUR STRAW HATS IN WINTER." He bought BARGAINS when BARGAINS were offered.

WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

A BARGAIN is something acquired at a low price. It is an advantageous purchase. It is buying when the seller in anxious to sell under the market value. All these quasi-millionaires made theirs buying BARGAINS and selling again for more than it cost them.

I have a BARGAIN for sale right niw. It is a HOME of Colonial design located in a desirable section of Kingston, 156 Hurley avenue. The house stands in a lot about 60'x110' and offers shade from three unusually large spreading maple trees. A garden in the rear of the house which is planted with old fashioned perennials leads an added charm. This home which is modern in every respect includes an oil burner, electric refrigerator, white enamel gas range, and a two car garage, will be sold at a sacrifice.

It is no doubt a bargain and cannot be duplicated in this city.

HOW—

SIXTH SENSE IN MANKIND BESTOWED ODD POWER— Despite the progress of physiology the study of the human body is full of mysteries. Some of its well-known organs have never revealed either their uses or the reason of their creation. The part played by the spleen in human life was discovered but recently. It is now regarded as one of the chief agents in the circulation of the blood. But there are in the marvelous human organism mysterious parts which it is possible that no savant, however profound his learning, may ever understand. For instance, in the skull, behind the cartilage of the nose, there is a little cavity of unknown origin. Physiologists believe that at one time, several thousand generations ago, it contained a gland consisting of two lobes joined by their common base.

This cavity, the delta turcica, is, in the opinion of certain authorities, the vestige of a sixth sense which was of great use to the antediluvian ancestors of man. It is believed that this little gland enabled them to see in the darkness when they had not yet learned the secret of procuring light; that it was the seat of the mysterious sense of direction or locality, the power to orient their course, the sense so highly developed to this day in savages and certain animals. The theory is plausible, but it is doubtful whether man will ever acquire any real knowledge of the reason for the existence of the delta turcica.

How Artificial Nests Aid in Bass Culture

It has been ascertained that black bass culture is greatly aided by artificial construction of nests. The male small-mouthed bass builds its nest by sweeping the stones of a lake bottom bare of sand in a three-foot circle. Alternately using his nose and his tail, the fish makes a saucer-shaped nest ready for the eggs of his mate; but he will readily use a nest that has been prepared for him. Accordingly, the fish experts expedite his home-building.

For the big-mouthed bass nests are made of moss embedded in concrete, as this species prefers a fibrous bed for its eggs. Ponds with basins six feet deep in the center and with shallower water elsewhere are so prepared. Wild fish caught by the hook are put in to mate here, to the great increase of reproduction. Proper assortment of the fish and the prevention of crowding accomplish excellent results.

How Trees Affect Future.

If this nation is to continue to maintain commercial prosperity, the forestry situation becomes a world problem. What does it mean to this prosperity when such great manufacturing centers as Pennsylvania, New York, Michigan, and Ohio have to import lumber in billions of feet every year to keep their factories going? New York, imports about 3,000,000,000 feet annually, the American Tree association says. Many other states import great quantities. What will it mean to state and national prosperity when industries have to slow down and cut pay rolls because of the mounting cost of forest products? We think of California as one of the states with thousands of acres of uncut forests, yet the state uses more than it produces. This all means something to every person of school age today—the citizen and taxpayer of tomorrow.

How Glass Can Be Cut.

A method of cutting glass clean and straight without the aid of a glass cutter is given as follows: Dip a piece of common string in alcohol and squeeze reasonably dry, then tie it around the glass on the line of cutting. Touch a match to it and let it burn off. While the glass is hot plunge it under water, letting the arm go well under to the elbow, so there will be no vibration when the glass is struck. With the free hand strike the glass outside the line of cutting, giving a quick sharp stroke with a stick or knife. Of course this will leave a sharp edge around the cutting.

How X-rays Save Trees.

Hidden defects and diseases in tree trunks are revealed by means of an X-ray outfit which shows conditions that cannot be detected by ordinary examination.

The outfit is one of the first to be developed and has since been improved into a more compact form. The apparatus is also useful in inspecting poles that carry power or other wires, to determine if any of them are dangerously decayed inside.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How the Trees Grow.

Christmas trees can be grown in from six to ten years, says the American Tree association. The best trees for this purpose are Norway, red and white spruce and balsam fir. For posts, the best trees are the locust and oak. They can be grown in from 12 to 20 years. For poles it generally requires 25 to 30 years or more. Good larch, spruce and cedar poles can be grown to a small size in this time.

Don't Yell—Whisper!

If you love nature, that's fine. Everybody should love nature. But we don't love the folks who are constantly yelling that they love nature. —Atchison Globe.

Beekeepers Meet Here Next Week

Through the cooperation of the County Beekeepers' Association of the State College and the Farm Bureau a two day meeting for Ulster county beekeepers has been arranged. This will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, December 18 and 19, respectively, at the court house in Kingston. The meetings will start at 10 a. m., each day.

Dr. E. A. Slocum, the beekeeping specialist from the State College of Agriculture, will be on hand as the speaker. In addition to discussing various phases of the work, an effort will be made to make up some plan to strengthen the county association.

All persons interested are urged to attend the full session. There will be something of interest at all times. Beekeeping is an important industry in the state and a great deal can be done for it, especially in the way of marketing. It is also important from the fruit growers' standpoint. Bees are necessary for cross pollination.

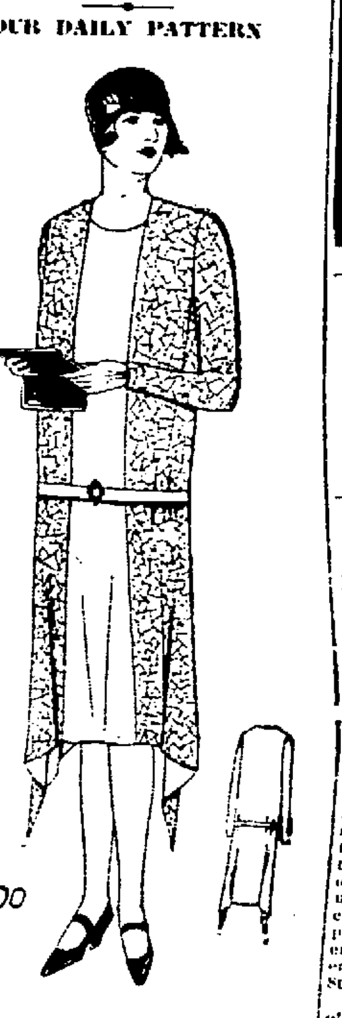
ACTIVITIES IN ST. PAUL LUTHERAN CHURCH

On Wednesday evening supper and sale will be held from five o'clock at St. Paul Lutheran Church. A chicken supper will be served this year.

Canvassers are expected to complete their districts this week for report to the board.

A class, open to all children over ten years of age, meets every Thursday at four o'clock in the assembly room of the church.

OUR DAILY PATTERN



A Simple Syle for Mature Figures

6300. Printed and plain crepe are combined in this smart style. The uneven hemline is featured in the graceful dip at the sides. The panel breaks the severity of the front, and forms slenderizing lines. The sleeve is a close fitting model. A narrow belt at low waistline holds the fulness of the dress. Printed velvet combined with plain crepe is suggested for this design. Moire and satin or all satin would be equally effective.

The pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 44 inch size as illustrated in the large view will require 3⅞ yards of figured material and 1⅞ yard of plain material 35 inches wide for facing the panel, the belt, and the dips at the hem edge. The width of the dress at lower edge with fulness extended is 2¼ yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Dec. 11—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Florida strawberry receipts are gradually increasing. Today's demand, however, was very limited and in consequence the market continued extremely dull with values tending lower. Wholesale business during the early morning hours was transacted at $1.10-$1.25 a quart basket.

The demand for white potatoes was moderate. Price changes were unimportant in a steady to firm market. Most of the upstate New York round white potatoes in bulk peddled out around $2.00-$2.10 per 150 pounds. Maine Green Mountains realized $2.25-$2.40.

New York city white potato receipts during the previous week totaled 292 cars, of which Maine furnished 182, and Long Island 87. The remainder came from three states and Bermuda.

Supplies of Western New York white Danish cabbage were moderate. Trading was fair at unchanged prices in a steady market. At terminals in New York city and Brooklyn sales on bulk stock were consummated at $45.00-$50.00 per ton. South Carolina late crop Wakefield cabbage packed in one and one-half $2.75-$3.00.

Receipts of upstate New York barreled and basket apples were light but fair supplies were carried over from yesterday. The market as well as values showed no material changes. Apple exports from this country and Canada for the week ended December amounted to 268,937 boxes and 136,953 barrels.

Arrivals of domestic yellow onions were moderate. Early morning trading was light. The market was dull and weak. Few large sales on western offerings exceeded $4.50 per 100-pound sack.

New York State celery receipts were light. Good to fair quality stock in the rough jobbed out at $2.25-$3.00 per two-thirds crate. Poor to ordinary ranged from $1.25-$2.60.

Celery holdings in the principal storages in the western part of the state on December 7 were reported at 300,313 crates, as against 456,050 on the same date last season.

New Road Will Be Expensive.

Superintendent of County Highways J. F. Loughran was given the privilege of the floor and stated that as the supervisors well knew there was a large cost to the county growing out of highway work, especially since the replacing of old bridges and new building of those washed away by the flood had been placed by law under the care of his department. Now an additional expense faces the county in the reconstruction as proposed of the part of West shore truck line running from the Orange-Ulster county line to Highland. It is to be a 40 foot road of three ways with 20 foot concrete pavement roadway. The cost of the condemnation of land would be very high as at Highland fine lawns would be cut in two.

May Cost a Million Dollars.

There are a number of valuable houses also on the proposed reconstruction route. It is estimated that the costs of condemnation would be between $50,000 and $75,000, and the cost of construction about $100,000 a mile. Superintendent Loughran stated the idea of bringing the matter to the attention of the supervisors was to get their thought if they desire to participate in the reconstruction of said highway. It may cost a million dollars before it is through. The law, however, does not make it mandatory but gives the county the right to participate if it so desires.

Supervisor Young was in favor of the state building the road and the county paying for the condemnation of the lands.

Chairman Davis favored the state buying the land and the county to pay construction costs, and Supervisor Shults considered the best plan would be for the county to buy the land and rights of way.

On motion of Supervisor James E. Rowe the board adjourned until Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

American Soldiers Sip 51,000,000 Cups of Tea

Washington.—Soldiers in the United States army drink 51,000,000 cups of tea each year. Something like 391 cups trickle down the throats of every officer and enlisted man annually, figuring the present peace-time strength at 133,033.

To provide this army of tea drinkers with the fragrant beverage required the purchase of 137,151 pounds of tea by the quartermaster corps in the fiscal year ended June 30, it is set forth in a bulletin issued here by the Tea Association of the United States. This is an average of a little more than a pound apiece for every soldier.

"Tea as the drink of fighting men," says the bulletin, "has the sanction of a good part of the rest of the world. Tea supplanted rum as the ration issued to English soldiers before they went over the top in the World war. Its invigorating and refreshing qualities braced them for the zero hour. Tea was carried in the canteens of both the soldiers of the mikado and of the czar in the Russo-Japanese war."

Remains of Warriors Found in Huge Pit

Stockholm.—A mammoth grave containing the bones of 1,800 men killed in battle has been found by excavators outside the city wall of Visby, on the Swedish island of Gotland.

The discovery is said to be unequaled in archeological annals as to size and historical value. Within the grave were found large quantities of armor, weapons and a variety of brutal implements used in medieval warfare.

The bones date from 1361, when the Danish king, Valdemar Atterdag, invaded Gotland for the purpose of conquering Visby, a wealthy Hanseatic stronghold.

Instinct of an Insect.

A wasplike insect, called the ichneumonda, has a tail like a slender hair from a horse's tail, with which it drills through wood with this hairlike drill and with such accuracy that hits the spot where wood-boring larvae lie buried. The drill is hollow, and down this hollow tube is shot an egg which lives on the wood-boring larvae.

Just how these insects know where to bore with such unerring accuracy is a mystery, but it is of great economic value, as it destroys many insects harmful to agriculture.
